

Pedal-powered pair plan Cuba cycling marathon

Customer service trainers Donna Barry and Val Colley plan to join This Morning presenter Fern Britton and 100 other women when they cycle across Cuba next month.

Donna and Val work with Eclipse Training Ltd which specialises in delivering customer service apprenticeships.

The cycling marathon is raising funds for Professor Robert Winston's Women for Women charity. Proceeds will support scientists and clinicians who specialise in the prevention, diagnosis and treatment of a range of conditions that affect women and their babies.

"We're very grateful for the sponsorship we have received and hope to raise the £6,000 needed to take part in the challenge before we fly out to Cuba," says Donna.

"It's going to be tough but we're looking forward to it. We've dusted off our bikes and are ready to raise loads of money for a very worthwhile cause."
